Profile

Full stack JavaScript Web Developer with knowledge of the MERN stack, seeking employment as a junior web developer. Hard-working, collaborative, and motivated individual in the process of switching into a career in software development.

Projects

Blogtopia

My final project at V School, a full-stack blog editing app. A user can create/edit a blog and make blog posts. Used AWS S3 to store uploaded images, the Unsplash API for (non-uploaded) images, and TinyMCE for the rich text editor (for blog posts). In this project I gained experience using styled components, modals and image uploads. Stack: MongoDB, Mongoose, Express.js, Node.js, React.

Photo Sharing

This was a collaborative project with Kenny Souvannaleut, using git and GitHub. Full stack photo-sharing social media app using MongoDB, Mongoose, Express.js, Node.js, React, and firebase storage to store image files.

BookMark

My first big project using the Google Books API in React to build a book search app. A user can find books, get more info on individual books, and save them in separate lists. Good practice of React concepts including router, context, and hooks, as well as and handling API calls and responses.
